Park talks, rate boost to dominate VCSD meet

Parks and recreation will once more dominate affairs as the Valley Community Services District Board of Directors meets tonight at 7:30 in the Dublin Boulevard offices.

Boone Acres, tennis courts, youth programs, the Dublin Sports Ground, Athan Downs, the proposed land swap with San Ramon Valley Unified School District and a report from the Citizens' Advisory Commission (CAC) will all come under the purview of the directors along with perhaps the most important aspect of parks and recreation — the upcoming tax rate increase election.

That is scheduled for May 27 and will jump the tax rate in the district 39 cents per $100 assessed valuation in order to strengthen VCSD's Park and Recreation Department.

The board will give their final approval, if all goes well, to the Dublin Sports Grounds as well as set up the mechanics of the park dedication and review the map for Athan Downs.

Although the VCSD board voted 4-1, with Lila Euler dissenting, to approve in principle a complex land swap, purchase and development trade-off between VCSD and the San Ramon Valley Unified School District, recently the San Ramon Homeowners' Association joined the board president in officially voicing its opposition.

The board will also hear a request from Hotline, the local counseling service and crisis line, for funding for Project Kick Back. Project Kick Back is aimed at providing outreach and alternative services to youth in the Valley, including VCSD.

A review of VCSD billing procedures and penalty provisions will be undertaken, which leads directly into the problems VCSD is having with Camp Parks. Presently, the district processes the sewage from Camp Parks for a fixed fee, but in view of the fact that Camp Parks is officially outside the boundaries of VCSD and the lack of sewer connections in the Valley, the district is considering methods of either limiting or eliminating service to Camp Parks.

The Army will also raise its head in the meeting as the Corps of Engineers is officially informing VCSD of the beginnings of a study on water and water-related problems in the Valley.

The presence of the Corps has not exactly been greeted with overwhelming enthusiasm and in fact VCSD sent out a letter recently advising the Corps, in most pleasant terms, to stay out of the wastewater problems in the Valley.

The present correspondence to the board, however, indicates the Corps is planning to study that aspect of Valley difficulties anyway.

A joint powers agreement with Livermore and Pleasanton concerning the Congress of Valley Agencies plus quarterly reports from the public works department and the fire department are also on the agenda.

First on the agenda (and number 12 in your heart) is a public hearing on the 1975 Weed Abatement Program for those who are upset about the abatement of weeds planned for this year.

Teachers get child eco-guide

The Valley Ecology Center in Livermore this week will present copies of "Child Ecology, A Complete Resource Guide for the Elementary School Teacher," to each school in Livermore, Pleasanton, Dublin, San Ramon and Sunol.

The 250-page teaching plan is geared for kindergarten through sixth grade students and is published by the Child Ecology Press in Los Altos, a National Grant project of the American Association of University Women, Las Altos branch.

It focuses on three local eco-systems — the seashore, redwood forest and bay and marsh — and stresses "appreciation" rather than "pollution."

Chapters are according to grade level and include activities, such as crossword puzzles and suggested field trips, and resource information, such as books and films.

A general bibliography and list of resources also is included in the back of the book.

The kindergarten chapter is "The School and Neighborhood Environment; awareness through the senses; first grade, "Animal Homes, squirrel, duck, fish; second grade, Life in a Pond, the interrelationships in an eco-system; third grade, Bay and Marsh, plant and life in an estuary (San Francisco Bay); fourth grade, The Seashore, waves, tides, tidepool life, endangered species; fifth grade, The Forest, food chains and webs, animal niches, the Santa Cruz Mountains, and sixth grade, Man's Impact on His Environment, air pollution, solid waste, population.

Illustrations appear throughout the book.

"The ultimate goal of 'Child Ecology' is to develop ecological awareness in each child," writes the AAUW authors of the guide. "If this quality is made an integral part of their school curriculum, there is reason to hope that as adults they will be better equipped to confront the complex environmental problems of the world."

The Valley Ecology Center purchased copies of the guide to have them available in all Valley schools for elementary school teachers.

Needless to ksay, a rousking success

DUBLIN — Needless to ksay, the Dublin Chamber of Commerce's annual luncheon and Greene kBeer drinking contest was a rousking success.

Chamber hears Clorox report

PLEASANTON — A report on the workings of the Clorox Technical Center located on the city's north side will be given to members of the Chamber of Commerce assembled for the Tuesday noon luncheon session at Hap's Restaurant.

Ron Harris will deliver the report on behalf of Clorox.

Eight hopeful entrants splashed their way onto the kDublin Chamber kscene, finally yielding the kfloor to the drinking prowess of Dr. Todd Lee, who promised knot to practice dentistry the rest of the afternoon.

The good dKctor's winning time of 16:45 seconds for three brimming 9 ounce goblets of — ughk — kgreen beer took trophy from last year's winner, Bob Greathouse.

While keight kentrants — kdamm that k — put their stomachs and macho on the line, as it were, before the cameras of television channels 2 and 4, and nearly all finished their portions, some contestants were disqualified for spilling and spraying.

The entrants kinkluded Rus Fulwood, Mike Blatz of VSCD, Tim whathisname from Valley Bank, and Mel Brock, in addition to those two guys who won.

Dr. Lee won two GIANT beers — just what he needed — and the honor of having his name engraved on the perpetual trophy. Oh, and a kiss from the Dublin Mkaid, Donna Julson.

Bob Greathouse won a six — or was it eight? — pack of mini-beers.

I got the afternoon off. Dancers from Kay Dougal's School of Dance performed for the Chamber members, while Kay disavowed any knowledge or association with the contestants.

Valley glows from paraders warmth

DUBLIN—Sure and it could have been Dublin, Ireland, for all the cold, overcast weather at Saturday's St. Patrick's day parade.

The cold, however, was limited to the skies, as the hundreds of Valley residents who lined the parade route from Village Parkway to the Amador Shopping Center could have calmed the North Atlantic with their warmth.

It would have done St. Patty proud.

There was music to please the saints in heaven when bands from all across the Valley marched past.

And the lovely maids — 12 of 'em plus the present Queen of Dublin, Donna Julson — warmed our hearts as they paraded past in those funny little cars. Aye, but they're a beautiful bunch!

And who were those funny little fellows? Those mysterious leprechauns with the squirming faces?

'Twas Voice of the Valley's own Top Hats, it were, and not their faces a squirming.

And cowboys and Indians, too. The Black Bart Gang, who went a lookin' for Tim Baldwin at Valley Bank. But 'twas only merriment in their eyes.

And the lovely Indian maidens, too, afloat made-in-Detroit ponies.

'Trails area school site surprise

DUBLIN — In a surprise move, the developers of Valley Trails have withdrawn their request for the use of 10 acres previously set aside for a school in the Valley Trails area of Pleasanton.

Dr. Don Williams, superintendent of the Murray Elementary School District, revealed that unexpected bit of information at Monday night's board of trustees meeting at Dublin School.

The brief letter to the district gave no reason for withdrawal of the request which had aroused the passion of Valley Trails homeowners. The 10-acre site was originally set aside to be developed as an elementary school but lack of funds and the unexpected stabilizing of the population postponed the building of the school indefinitely.

Last week Williams read a letter from Morrison Homes requesting either the return of the land to the developer or its purchase by the school district. Since the district had no money, and had no prospect of receiving any money, it seemed the 10 acres would have to be returned and developed despite the objections of the residents.

Alameda County Bureau HAYWARD — The Alameda County Planning Commission voiced no major objections to Pleasanton Garbage Service's proposed Busch Road transfer station Monday but continued a recommendation until next Monday.

That motion to continue the hearing for a week was urged by county Planning Director Bill Fraley who said it would give the Pleasanton Planning Commission time to act on the proposed location and would give county commissioners time for review of supplemental materials.

The 7.5-acre parcel, on which the garbage firm proposes to locate its transfer station, is within the city limits. Because of amendments to the government code, however, the county must review transfer station applications and determine they are compatible with the county's solid waste management program. That information must be forwarded to the state.

Pleasanton Garbage Service had previously sought to locate the transfer station on its Vineyard Avenue property. Neighboring property owners objected to that site, however, because they believed it would lead to increased traffic along Vineyard Avenue.

If the Busch Road site is approved, attorney Bill Hirst told the commission, he believed the trucks transporting local garbage to the Vasco Road dump site in Livermore would be able to use El Chorro Road, thus keeping them off city streets.

The Pleasanton Planning Commission will review design plans for the transfer station at its Thursday night meeting.

At its Monday meeting, the county planning commission also reviewed housing obstacles, goals and objectives that will become a part of the Housing Element of the county's General Plan.

The report was prepared by the eight members of the Housing Committee, Betty Crowley of the planning staff told the commission, and includes housing elements for the 13 cities in the county.

The commission agreed to refer the report to the cities, housing authorities and redevelopment agencies within the county for their comments and modifications. Later this year, the planning commission and board of supervisors will schedule public hearings on the Housing Element.

Virginia Gorski is new fiscal services chief

PLEASANTON — Virginia Gorski, 36, began duties as director of fiscal services Monday with the Amador-Pleasanton school district.

Mrs. Gorski replaces Robin Thompson, who leaves Wednesday to become business manager and comptroller for the Chico Unified School District. Thompson had been with the district seven years.

A native of Minnesota, Mrs. Gorski comes from the Benicia Unified School District where she was business manager the past 1½ years. Prior to that she was accounting supervisor with Fremont Unified for 4½ years. She also worked in the business office at Washington Union High School for three years.

Mrs. Gorski is married and has two sons.

Labor unions, power companies oppose initiative

Last of a two part series

As might be expected, opposition to the proposed Nuclear Initiative is extensive.

Labor unions, the power industry and many concerned with the energy future of the United States view the Initiative with considerable alarm and they have several telling points to make against the structure of the initiative.

And, obviously, they have the money to make those views known. The Nuclear Initiative, according to its supporters, will make the ballot in June of 1976 (if 70 per cent of their present signatures are valid) with an expenditure of only $40,000. As far as the campaign in 1976, the adherents are not expecting any contributions in large chunks, as they claim most of their financial support came in small individual contributions this year.

However, the opponents of the proposal are already gearing up for a long fight against it and have hired Winner, Wagner and Associates, a governmental consulting and campaign managing firm in Sacramento, to run the fight.

And Winner, Wagner and Associates have some ammunition to work with.

First, they (meaning almost all opponents of the legislation) feel the bill will substantially damage the nuclear power industry in California and set back the effective appearance of nuclear power on the energy scene by several years.

The initiative requires that first, the Price - Anderson Act (which limits liability on nuclear accidents) be repealed within a year and second, that the state legislature certify, by a two-thirds vote, that nuclear power is safe within five years.

Eason Wagner of Winner, Wagner feels that lending institutions will be leery of financing nuclear power construction in light of the uncertainty surrounding the legislation.

The power industry itself will have to plan in a vacuum, opponents claim, because they won't know whether they will be able to actually build the plants they're thinking about. (If either of the two conditions in the Initiative aren't met, a gradual reduction of nuclear power in the state would begin until all commercial power plants would be shut down.)

And, of course, energy experts around the country are predicting disaster if nuclear power is not utilized to its fullest extent as soon as possible.

And, says Wagner, "the initiative is a little bit naive. A two-thirds vote on anything is very difficult to obtain."

Of course, adherents of the initiative claim that if nuclear power is as safe as the utilities have been proclaiming, then removing the liability limit and getting two-thirds of the legislature to say that it is safe should be fairly easy things to do.

Wagner is not so sanguine. "We can't view the initiative in a void" he says. "Consumers should be aware that fossil fuels are going to become more and more expensive" adds Wagner and he claims that the passage of this proposal will raise those prices immediately.

Wagner also feels that the initiative is not really necessary. Governor Pat Brown has created and filled a State Energy Commission with, according to Wagner, people who are very cautious about nuclear power. Any power plant, he says, would have to be approved by the State Energy Commission, and thus the initiative is not really required.

Also, the California Council for Environmental and Economic Balance (CCEEB) has put out releases stating that it feels the initiative is unconstitutional. People for Proof, the group sponsoring the proposal, claims that it isn't.

Also, both CCEEB and Wagner commented that the initiative was never introduced to the state legislature, and opponents feel this "end run" is somehow not the way the initiative process was intended to work.

If the conditions set up by the initiative are not met, the effect on California energy would indeed be heavy. "The alternatives (to nuclear power) are more dangerous," Wagner says. Fossil fuels (natural gas, oil and so on) are not only going to be more and more expensive, they are going to be more and more scarce in the coming years.

And the quality of those fuels will lower, resulting in more pollution and more expense. Many scientists are convinced that nuclear power must be implemented as soon as possible and to the fullest extent in order to avoid a genuine crisis in energy. And as long as the United States is dependent on oil for fuel, the Arabian countries will have a powerful weapon to hold on this nation.

The question of delay is vital as well. Ed Slingland of Pacific Gas & Electric views the Nuclear Initiative as a danger because it "adds another layer of delay" to the process of approving a nuclear plant. The delay of one year means 12 more months of importing fossil fuels from outside the state and nation and already the lead time (between the original plan and on-line operation) is between seven and ten years for nuclear power.

Winner, Wagner and Associates are just beginning to set up the campaign against the Nuclear Initiative. Although the issue won't come to a vote until June of 1976, they are already "trying to coordinate all the interests that will oppose the initiative."

Although the firm is traditionally associated with liberal, Democratic politics and has been "on the pro-environmental side" of issues, Winner, Wagner and Associates has been hired by a combination of labor interests and power companies to run the campaign against the Nuclear Initiative.

It appears almost a certainty that the measure will be on the ballot in 1976, and the public will find itself bombarded with facts, figures and outright propaganda from both sides.

One side will plead caution and the limiting of nuclear power until its potential dangers are outlined and controlled; the other will claim that any delay in developing our energy resources will be costly in money and national security.

The decision that the people of the state make could be one of the most important in California history.

The county also wants "reasonable night and weekend schedules" to such points as Danville.

Planners to ponder over sign

LIVERMORE — The congested, four-way stop intersection of Olivina Avenue and Murrieta Boulevard will come under planning commission scrutiny tonight at a regular meeting of the commissioners.

They will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the Municipal Court Chambers, 39 S. Livermore Ave. with public hearing matters — including the intersection under study — scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

Being considered by the planning commission at Olivina and Murrieta is the possible re-alignment of Olivina Avenue west of Murrieta Boulevard in order to eliminate the four-way intersection. Putting in a light signal at the intersection also will be looked at.

Commissioners also are expected to recommend to city council the Livermore Community Park Civic Center site as the location of a federally-financed multi-purpose center.

The building would be constructed at the easterly end of the extension of Pacific Avenue, in the vicinity of the police administration building and public library.

Another site being considered for the multi-purpose center is the existing softball field at the Recreation Center, Eighth and H streets. The planning staff favors the Civic Center site.

In other business, commissioners will consider two referrals from the Alameda County Planning Commission for rezoning.

The owner of a site on the west side of Wente Street, less than a half-mile north of Marina, has requested rezoning the property to agricultural to qualify for an agricultural preserve status.

The same objective is being sought by the property owner of a site on the south side of First Street, opposite the intersection with Las Positas Road.

Planning staff has recommended approving rezoning for both sites, noting that the county has already granted preserve status to both applications — an unusual procedure prior to rezoning.

Various reports from the planning department also will be heard at tonight's meeting.

Mori gets appointments

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman Floyd Mori of Pleasanton has been appointed to two key legislative committees by Assembly Speaker Leo McCarthy.

Mori will serve on the Assembly Committee on Labor Relations and on the Assembly Select Committee on Industrial Safety.

The freshman assemblyman will be appointed to at least one other policy committee soon.

"Committees are where the real work of the Legislature is done," Mori said, "and I'm extremely pleased to have the opportunity to serve on these policy bodies which are so very important to the working families of the 15th district."

He added, "The Labor Relations Committee will be acting on many proposals that will help ease the impact of high unemployment in Alameda County. The Select Committee, already responsible for giving California the toughest job safety standards in the nation, can also do a great deal more to protect the welfare of people at their places of work," Mori said.

Exchange Club's talent search packed them in at Dublin High

DUBLIN — Nearly 500 Valley residents first filled, then packed, and finally overflowed the Dublin High School auditorium Friday night demanding entertainment.

Their request was more than met.

Twenty-nine future Barbra Streisands and Fred Astaires between 6- and 18-years-old sang, danced, and clowned their ways into the hearts of an enraptured Valley audience.

Six-year-old Michelle Pierce, dancing to the theme from "Hawaii Five-O" placed first in the primary division, while the dance team of Tracy Xepoleas and Jim Pastrone took first honors in the junior division, and 16-year-old Angela Rossa sang her way through a Judy Garland medley to first place in the senior division.

"The competition was some of the toughest I've ever seen," commented committee chairman Bill Foster.

The 29 finalists had been successful in competition among nearly 150 acts, according to Foster.

Five tortuously weighed the contestants on a scale of 100 — not, emphasized Foster, in direct competition with each other.

Judges Mrs. Jan Fevury, a dance specialist from Pleasanton, Jerry Lippinsky, music director at Wells Intermediate School, Steve Michelson, choral director from Monte Vista School, Kay Dougal, dance instructor, and Alberta Hill, music director at Harvest Park School, sat through the 3 1/2 hour performance, brows furrowed and eyes gleaming with concentration as each act went through its paces.

The three winning acts will compete in Northern California Divisional semi-finals May 17, at the Dublin High School auditorium. Those winners will vie in district competition June 27 in San Jose, pitting talent from California, Hawaii, and Nevada.

Cluster units ire Silvergate

A plan to construct 67 two and three bedroom clustered housing units in the Silvergate area has aroused the ire of residents of that Dublin neighborhood.

Kathie Waterson of Serra Court has started circulating a petition to residents of the Silvergate area protesting the development by Ward Ryder Co. on the 12.2 acre plot known as Dublin Green or Church Hill.

The land is bounded by Peppertree Road, Silvergate Drive, San Ramon Road and Shannon Avenue and the proposed development will come up before the Alameda County Planning Commission on March 24 in Hayward.

Waterson plans to make a presentation at the meeting and also give the commissioners the petition. She also has collected documentation from the Murray Elementary School District and the Valley Community Services District which supports the position of the homeowners.

Dr. Don Williams, Superintendent of MESD, and Ken Whipple, the principal of Nielsen School, which serves the area, both are on record as saying the development of Dublin Green plus the Briarhill development will overcrowd Nielsen.

VCSO, according to Waterson, has written a letter citing inadequate sewage and water facilities that she will present to the commission on Monday and residents are upset about the traffic problem.

"We already have cars speeding up and down Silvergate," says Waterson, who would prefer to see the land undeveloped. If it has to be developed, she says she would prefer single family homes on the 12 acres rather than 67 clustered homes.

The idea of apartments or apartment-type dwellings there would damage the present atmosphere in the Silvergate area, says Waterson, and she anticipates no problems in collecting a large number of signatures before Monday.

CONTESTANTS GUZZLE GREEN BEER.

IRISH HOSPITALITY FROM ANN BLOCKLEY AND TERRY O'MEARA WITH SODA BREAD.

Over 800 merry-makers anticipated St. Patty's Day in a fashion worthy of the truest sons (and daughters) of Eire at the Irish Fest sponsored by the Amador-Livermore Valley Historical Society Saturday.

Braving the cold and wet, they queued up in the flooded parking lot at the Pleasanton fairgrounds before they were given "Cead mile failte" ("A hundred thousand welcomes") at the door, and a hot corned beef dinner.

The weather didn't spoil the fun of contestants in the green beer drinking contests, shy of the limelight at first, but enthusiastic as the crowds warmed up.

Continuous entertainment was provided by the Kathleen Deely Irish Step Dancers, the Royal Canadian Legion bagpipe band, vocalists and yodelers, the Dennis Brooks Irish Combo, and finally the "Green Isles" band which capped the evening with mellow dance music.

Not to mention the culinary diversion at the Irish Soda Bread booth, the sweet and spicy treat baked by Ann Blockley of Dublin.

The Irish Fest was again a grand success — lightening the hearts of many on a gloomy night, and providing a sizeable contribution toward the restoration of Old St. Raymond's Church in Dublin.

The public is invited to bring a sack lunch to the free 50-minute performance sponsored by the Legislation that would prohibit any business from refusing to deal with a woman — regardless of her marital status — merely because she has chosen to use her birth or former name has been introduced in the state Senate by Sen. Milton Marks (R-S.F.).

A Marks bill passed last year now guarantees a woman's common law right to use her birth or former name when registering to vote, applying for a drivers license or for any other purpose.

"My bill will end discrimination against women who desire to use their birth or former name for credit or other business transactions," said the senator.

It is needed, said Marks, because a number of business firms often refuse to do business with married or divorced women who want to use their birth or former name.

"Passage of my bill will strengthen the existing name-change law and will plug any loopholes that may have been used to deny women their common law right to use their birth or former name," the senator commented.

Can You Tell the $1,740 Plate From the $3 Plates?

NORTHBROOK, Ill.—A successful art dealer in this Chicago suburb says the middle plate above—the 1965 Lalique—is a prized collector's plate that regularly sells for $1,740.

The plates on either side are ordinary plates that have never been accepted by the world of collectors.

According to Thomas F. Gilmore, president of this dealership, there is a new, easy way to choose true collector's plates with high resale potential.

Mr. Gilmore says, "Since many plates do not increase in value, amateurs often make serious mistakes." He offers a free report on what to look for, when to buy, what to pay and much more. It even includes special offers on eagerly-sought collector's plates at modest cost.

To get your free report with no obligation, just send your name, address and zip code to Bradford Galleries, 122L Bradford Place, Northbrook, Illinois 60062. A postcard will do. Because of limited quantities, requests should be made by March 29, 1975.

Saucers expert to speak

Stanton T. Friedman, a nuclear physicist who is one of the leading authorities on unidentified flying objects, will make a guest appearance on KGO Channel 7's "AM" show this morning.

Friedman will be in Pleasanton Wednesday for an 8 p.m. illustrated lecture at the Amador Valley High School auditorium. Admission is $2.

Believed to be the only space scientist in the country to be devoting full time to the study of UFOs, Friedman is convinced that Planet Earth is being visited by intelligently-controlled vehicles whose origin is off the earth.

His talk will cover five large scale scientific studies of UFOs, including the famous Condon Report, UFO landings, humanoids, travel to the stars, the arguments of the educated non-believers, etc. His talk will be followed by a question and answer period.

In 1973 he spoke at 93 colleges in 41 states. His lecture at Susquehanna University two years ago drew an overflow audience of 1,900 persons.

His appearance is being sponsored by the Sociology classes at Amador Valley High. Robert Holland, Sociology instructor, says that more noted speakers may be scheduled if Friedman's appearance brings a large turnout.

Adult class enrollment underway

Pre-registration is underway for Amador Adult Education classes which commence the week of March 31.

The schedule for the spring quarter inadvertently left out one of the more popular classes... Acrylics and Watercolors. It will be taught by Muriel Doggett on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 10 p.m.

Several changes have been made in the program. Leather craft has been dropped from the spring program. Real estate, which is being held on the Amador Valley High campus, will be taught on Thursday evenings instead of Wednesdays as listed. Adult Ed is offering several day classes during the spring quarter.

Classes being held at Camp Parks during the day are Creative Stitchery Workshop, 9:30 - 12 Thursdays; Parent-Child Observation on Saturdays; Picture Framing on Fridays; Beginning Tole Decorative Paint on Mondays from 10 to 2; Advanced Tole Decorative Paint on Wednesdays from 10 to 2; Upholstery on Monday and Tuesdays from 9 to 3:30 p.m.

English as a Second Language will be held at the Federal Youth Center on Monday, Wednesday and Fridays from 12:30 to 2:45. Early Childhood Development is scheduled Thursdays from 9:15 to 11:15 at the Pleasanton Presbyterian Church.

Also, Art Appreciation will be offered at the Pleasanton Convalescent Home on Mondays from 10:45 to 11:45.

For further information on Adult Ed classes, call 462-1615 during the day.

LAVWMA to focus on plans

DUBLIN — The Livermore-Amador Valley Water Management Agency will attempt to create order out of chaos this Thursday night at a workshop that will focus on water management planning for the Livermore-Amador Valley.

LAVWMA has invited representatives of the Environmental Protection Agency, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the State Water Resources Control Board and the Regional Water Quality Control Board to attend the workshop.

Because all of those agencies are engaged in some type of water management study for the valley, LAVWMA is attempting to encourage development of "coordinated planning objectives and study."

At the workshop, LAVWMA members will be asking representatives of the other agencies what water quality management planning they believe must be accomplished in the valley.

Mouth wash to be tested

Board to discuss fluoride experiment

LIVERMORE — Local schoolchildren may be taking part next year in a fluoridated mouthwash experiment.

If the Livermore Unified School District board approves the project tonight, district students, with written parental consent, may be used as "guinea pigs" in an experiment to show that rinsing for 60 seconds once a week with a sodium fluoride solution cuts cavities by 30 per cent.

Livermore was chosen by the University of California School of Dentistry for their project because it is the only large community in the county without fluoridated water.

It's a three-year project which would involve kindergartners through eighth graders. UC project leaders expect about 60 per cent of the parents to give consent.

Theoretically, the experiment would take five or six minutes out of the school day once a week. A nurse prepares and dispense the fluoride solution in paper cups and the teacher supervises as students swish it around in their mouths for 60 seconds, then spit it back into their cups, stuff unfolded paper napkins into the cups and drop them into a plastic bag.

The solution is said to be harmless if swallowed.

Some 150 students would receive a yearly 10-minute dental examination to determine starting data and yearly progress.

Superintendent of Schools Leo Croce is recommending that the school board approve the project, for July 1, 1975 through Nov. 30, 1978.

The school board meets at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the Education Center, 685 Las Positas Blvd. at Murrieta. Other items that will come up for discussion: new counseling program for Livermore High; state evaluation of Marilyn and Arroyo Mocho Schools' early childhood education programs; report on the Association of Low Wealth School Districts; request for advance granting of funds to pave the Mendenhall playground; approval of applications for vocational education funds; 1973-74 audit report; revised estimate of income; and proposed board policy on the flag.

In addition, the board will approve a list of probationary teachers for re-employment, a list of teachers eligible for tenure and a list of newly employed and resigning personnel.

For Tuesday, March 18, 1975
ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Your tendency is to say more than you should about a confidential matter entrusted to you. Even an unintentional leak could fall on the wrong ears.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
You have little confidence in an idea about work proposed by a pal. Don't reject it before you give it a fair trial.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Keep your conversation in harmony with those whose company you share today. Don't talk about things you alone are interested in.
CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Too much time will be wasted today worrying about things pertaining to the future. Make better progress by living in the "now."
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
You'll see a way that you can gain but it means taking advantage of another. Pass up such selfish interests.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
This could be a financially rewarding day for you, if you don't pay too much attention to petty side issues.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Co-workers are careless today. Their mistakes could have a bad effect upon you. Supervise their work carefully to avoid trouble.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
Don't gamble where business is concerned. It's best today to deal with reliable and trusted firms and people.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Three heads are better than two in your decision-making today. Consult with others affected before resolving a family matter.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Doubts you have about your career will be swiftly dissipated once you swing into action. Keep your eyes solely on the target.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
You tend to buy on impulse today. Decide first if you really need the item, then shop around.
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
Tie a string around your finger, to remind you to fulfill a promise to the family. Your mind will be elsewhere. You're apt to forget.

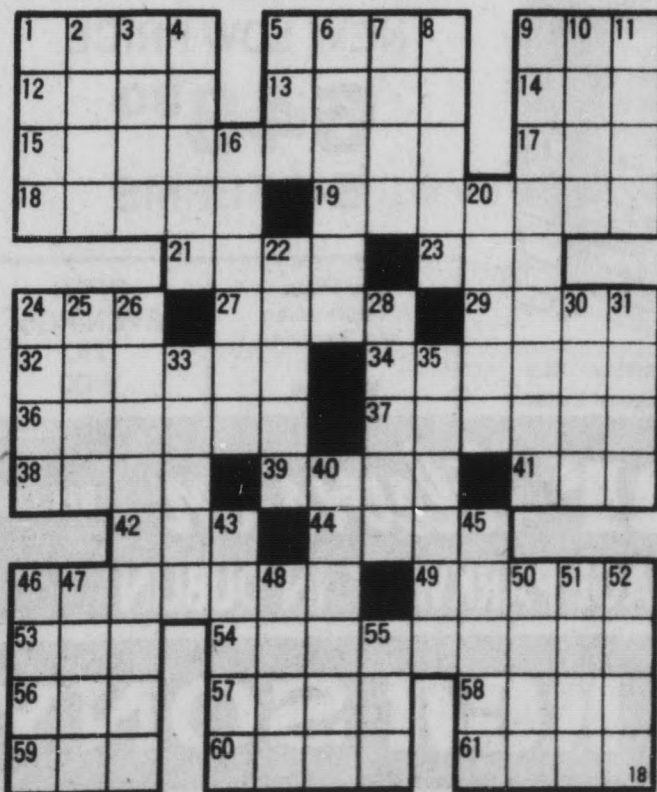

March 18, 1975
You'll make several important changes this year. One could be your place of residence. If you don't move, you'll at least make extensive improvements.

West opened the deuce of diamonds against South's four-heart contract. The trey was played from dummy. East studied a while and finally decided to go right up with his ace and give his partner a ruff. While East was thinking, West had time to prepare a nice little bit of deception. He ruffed the diamond return with his jack of trumps! Then he led the king of spades. South was in dummy. He decided that West had ruffed that was the only heart he held. In that case East would be sitting with three trumps to the nine. It was up to him to take an immediate discard of his last spade on dummy's king of diamonds. He did just that. West produced the eight of trumps for the third defensive trick and waited with his king of clubs to set the unfortunate declarer.

West falsecard with the jack of trumps was an expert's play, but South really shouldn't have fallen for it. If West held just one heart and one club he would have held 11 black cards. Not vulnerable he would probably have tried a sacrifice bid of four spades.

Kissin charges to 8th in Morocco

SAN RAMON'S ROY KISSIN
Local distance runner eighth in Morocco.

Roy Kissin of Danville and San Ramon High School, running in his first international competition, bolted from 30th position with 1000 meters to go and finished eighth in a field of 125 at the Junior International Cross-Country Championships, held in Rabat, Morocco, Sunday afternoon.

Kissin's effort, combined with the performances of teammates Robert Thomas, Don Clary and Ralph Serna, gave the United States juniors the team championship.

Roy's time for the 8000-meter course was 21:44, just two seconds behind seventh-place finisher Christian Souquet of Belgium and 45 seconds behind Thomas, the race winner in 20:59.

Thomas, a student at Southwestern Michigan Community College, outran runner-up Jose Gonzales of Spain by 19 seconds.

Clary, a freshman at the University of Alaska, was fifth in 21:38. Serna, a senior at Loara H.S. in Anaheim, Calif., came 15th with no time given.

The Americans totaled 29 points to runner-up Ireland's 35. "Today I was pretty nervous," a happy Kissin told the Times in a telephone interview following the race.

"But the start of the race took me by surprise, and my nervousness disappeared very quickly," he added.

"It was a fast gun. There was no warning at all. All of a sudden it felt like the Kentucky Derby. The pack was moving at an unbelievably fast pace, shifting quickly."

Roy worked his way clear of the crowd in the early going and managed to settle in "about 30th place" during the middle stages of the race.

"I moved from 30th to 13th around the 1000-meter mark," he recalled. "I was feeling strong, and I was still moving well when I finished."

Conditions for the event were near-ideal. Kissin reported, with temperatures in the low 70s and negligible humidity.

But the race site, a hippodrome situated on the outskirts of Rabat, presented Kissin with a unique challenge.

"They were running horses there in the morning, so the ground was very rough."

Roy added that his three-month preparation for his first international race had left him especially fit. No doubt it helped him overcome a number of first-time creature discomforts which are peculiar to athletic continent-hopping.

"Jet lag and fatigue have been a problem. I got only three hours of sleep last night," he said Sunday.

"But everything here has been very comfortable, as far as accommodations and hospitality are concerned," he said. "The atmosphere, the people have been super — very friendly."

Kissin continued to marvel at the quick start, a novelty for him and most of the other runners.

"There was no 'on your marks' and no 'set,'" he recalled. "No warning at all,

just a gunshot."

"The runners who had been in this type of race knew what to expect, but the novices — and I was certainly one of them — were all of a sudden scrambling in this giant herd."

In the senior championships, run at 10,000 meters, Ian Stewart of Scotland won the race in 35:20, followed closely by Spain's Mariano Haro (35:21).

Bill Rogers of the U.S. was third in 35:27, and teammate Frank Shorter was 20th, no time given.

The senior team championship went to New Zealand, which placed John Walker fourth in 35:45.

The American women, led by race winner Julie Brown, won their team competition.

Pleasanton sides gain semis

Two more Pleasanton teams swept into the State Cup Soccer semifinals last weekend, bringing the list of Ballistic hopefuls to five.

The under-10 Ballistic Vulcans tripped the Dublin

Thunderbolts, 2-0, and under-12 Ballistic United dropped the Lafayette Rams, 2-0 in overtime.

Other teams in the semis already include: Ballistic United under-10, 14, and 16.

The Vulcans advanced thanks to the fine defense of Russell Lovell, Mark Andrews, Ron Lambert, Brian Jawson, Tod Lawken and Mitch Haroldson.

Goal keeper Juan Covian was outstanding with four saves. Doug Croteau and Chris Pearson were spark-plugs for the offense. Goals went to John Beaulieu (unassisted) and Mel Grisel on a Mike Lemm assist.

David Croteau and Todd Moore pushed over goals as United blanked the Rams. It marked United's third straight State Cup victory by shutout. Edward Kinyon anchored the strong Ballistic defense.

Wooten captures 4th in State mat

The East Bay Athletic League's prime hopes of high-scoring success at the state wrestling meet vanished into the Tehachapi Mountains last weekend.

Monte Vista's Bart Wooten, one of three Mustang wrestlers competing in Saturday's California High School Championships at Bakersfield, dropped a close decision to Bill Cripps of Los Angeles' Leuzinger H.S. to take fourth place in the 148-pound division.

Wooten's 2-1 loss to Cripps was his second of the day, against three wins.

MV's Todd Rambo, second to Mt. Diablo's Stan Huggins in the Section championships, was pinned in his first outing. Huggins also lost his first match of the day to join Rambo on the bench in the 115-pound division.

Casey Merrill, the third Mustang entry, won his first match in the 194's, but then lost the next two to drop out.

Champion A's show usual wealth of talent

EDITOR'S NOTE: Times reporter Al Fischer traveled to Arizona last week, taking time to observe and size up the prospects of the Bay Area's two major league baseball clubs as they train for the upcoming season. His two-part series begins today with a look at the Oakland A's.

It is becoming more apparent that righthander Glenn Abbott is the Oakland A's "designated substitute" for Catfish Hunter.

With only 11 roster and two non-roster pitchers in camp, Manager Alvin Dark is looking at a rotation that includes Abbott, Ken Holtzman, Vida Blue and Dave Hamilton. Abbott is the only orthodox flinger in the group.

The A's coaching staff is also taking long looks at another stratospheric righthander, 6-6 Mike Barlow, rookie Mike Norris and Lew Krausse, the latter a much-traveled 31-year old who is in the A's Mesa, Arizona spring training camp after pleading his case with the management.

Watching the A's last weekend in Mesa, it was obvious they'll be even stronger in the day-to-day regular slots.

And if you're looking for a longshot, put the name of Chester Lemon in your hatband. Lemon is a 20-year old third and second baseman who spanked 10 homers and drove across 61 runners at Birmingham last year. Lemon made the catch of the spring season Sunday, stabbing a sinking liner on the outfield grass between first and second.

The A's manhandled California Angel pitching for 17 hits in collecting a 13-4 Cactus League triumph Sunday under azure skies at Mesa. The Angels have 24 pitchers in camp and, if they're lucky, they'll dredge up one or two decent ones to go with Nolan Ryan. The ones working Sunday are definitely fodder for Holtville.

Dark and his management aides, not counting Charley O. for the moment, have problems that every coaching staff should have.

Who's on first?

Beside vets Jim Holt and Pat Bourque, both of whom could be cut to make room for someone like Lemon or a third catcher, there's Joe Rudi, Billy Williams and Gene Tenace. Now you wouldn't say first base is much of a problem, would you?

Phil Garner is the heir apparent at second now that Dick Green has reaffirmed his retirement status. Who else but Bert Campaneris at short and Captain Sal (Bando) at third round out the inner defense.

If Rudi can be convinced that first is the place to play (the best leftfielder in the game playing first?), Claudell Washington will take his place in left. Billy North returns to center, the better to bicker with Reggie Jackson in right.

Behind this solid outer picket line are Jesus Alou (2 for 2 in his Mesa debut Sunday), Angel Mangual and still-hopeful John Summers.

That leaves the likes of Ted Kubiak on the bench with designated runner Herb Washington and vet backstopper Larry Haney.

But the pitching is where it's at and that's where "one more makes four" could dissolve into pipedreams.

The hope is that Barlow will make it as a short relief man and that Abbott can come up with a 15-win season. But don't wager too much of the family bread.

Behind them are people named Scarberry, Van Bommel, Copeland and Mr. Krausse. Sounds more like the starting rotation for the Tucson Toros.

The A's have their Cactus opener with Giants scheduled Wednesday at Phoenix Municipal Stadium, take a day off and then come back to Mesa Friday for a matchup with San Diego.

Despite two Cid Martin goals, the Sharks defeated the Ravens, 4-2.

Insulate. Save energy.

Take a look in your attic. Adequate insulation on the floor of an unfinished attic can cut winter heating bills up to 20 percent. And if you have air conditioning, there's more savings in summer cooling costs.

Chances are, there's not enough insulation in your attic... one third of Northern California homes have none. So heat is probably escaping from your attic in large amounts. And you're paying to replace the heat. Day after day. To stop this waste of your money — and the Nation's energy — takes only a day or two of your time and some ready-to-install insulation from your building supply dealer. Just tell him that you want to bring your insulation up to "R-19," the standard recommended by the National Bureau of Standards. You can probably finance it with your bank charge card.

Simply lay insulation blankets between those joists that cross the attic floor. That's it.

Or, if you prefer, call an "Insulation Contractor."

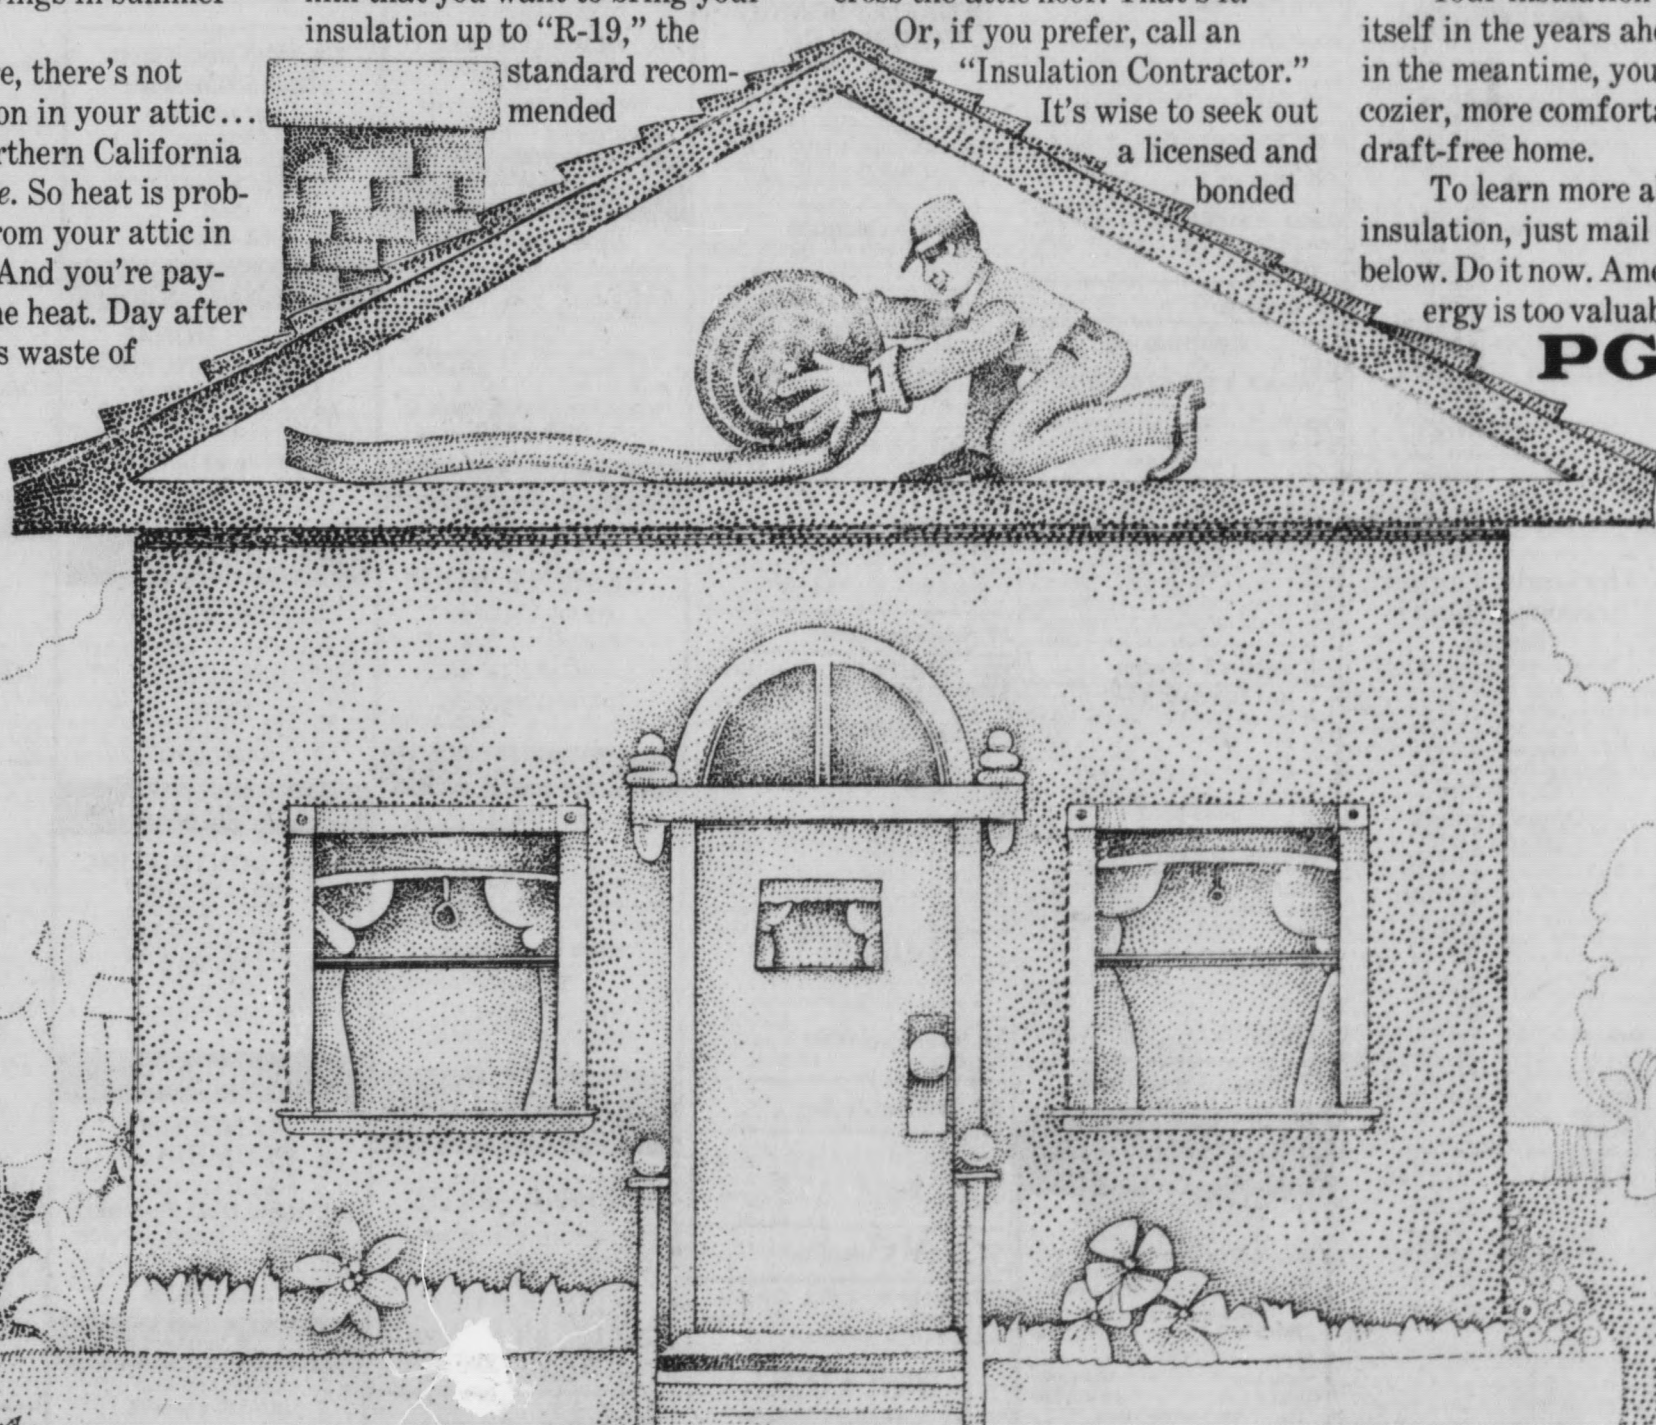

It's wise to seek out a licensed and bonded contractor, such as a member of the Insulation Contractors Association, to do the work. Be sure to specify insulation that meets the "R-19" standard.

Your insulation will pay for itself in the years ahead. And, in the meantime, you'll enjoy a cozier, more comfortable, more draft-free home.

To learn more about home insulation, just mail the coupon below. Do it now. America's energy is too valuable to waste.

Harvest groups win honors

PLEASANTON — Three choral groups from Harvest Park School earned honors at the California Music Educators Festival held March 8 at Cal State Hayward.

The awards are the first - ever for choral music students at the school. The choruses are under the direction of Mrs. Alberta Hill.

They will be participating in a non-rated festival at Ygnacio Valley in April and, the same month, a rated festival at Amador Valley High.

Members of the Crusaderettes are A'Lissa Bailey, Janet Bates, Sandy Gilpatrick, Carla Holder, Jackie Kerr, Elana Peled, Becky Redgwick and Joan Singleton.

The seventh grade Lancer Lasses include Lisa Anderson, Karen Herrmann, Valerie Kent, J-Dee Lamb, Wanetta Mago, Melinda Maxwell, Shirley Nichols, Natalie Partridge and Kendra Wurth.

The Crusader Ensemble, comprised of eighth grade boys, includes Ron Archer, Walter Magdefrau, John Pappas, Mike Rennels and David Richer.

World Cattle

Approximately two-thirds of the world's cattle are in Europe, Asia and Africa. Slightly less than one-third are found in the western hemisphere.

(Times Photo)

Three of Mrs. Alberta Hill's choral groups at Harvest Park School in Pleasanton earned honors at a recent California Music Educators Festival at Cal State Hayward. The Crusader Ensemble won a "II" rating, the Lancer Lasses (middle row) earned "I" rating and the Crusaderettes (top row), the eighth grade girls chorus, also merited praise.

Canine class

The Pleasanton Recreation Department Dog Obedience class ended last week with graduation and trophies to the canine handlers. Counter clockwise in first place is Barbara Johnson, second place Roseann Black, third place Sheryl Taylor and fourth place Frances Bidstrup. ## Light work Digging the ground work for the installation of traffic signals and street lights at the intersection of Holmes Street and Concannon Boulevard are two workers from the Vallejo electrical firm of Steiny and Company, Inc. The $120,000 project is partially funded by the state since the intersection is along state Route 84. Flashing lights also will be installed 800 feet from the intersection to warn motorists of the upcoming corner. Target date for project completion is two months.

Building talks

Fred Cooper, Alameda County Board of Supervisors chairman, spoke on regional government at the combined meeting of ABI East Bay and Central divisions this past week. He commented on Livermore's stop growth order.

Horseback class units are slated

Horse - loving Valley residents may have dreamed of picking up university credits while on horseback.

Now, it can be done.

The extension service of the University of California at Davis is offering a course that will be taught in the high Sierra during a week - long pack trip by mule train.

"Horse Husbandry in the Wilderness," appropriately enough, is the subject of the course, which will be taught by Dr. J. Warren Evans, associate professor of animal science at UCD.

Dates of the trip are July 14 - 20.

In addition, UCD will hold its annual Equestrian Seminar June 15 - 21 (Forward Section) and June 22 - 28 (Western Section.)

Each section consists of a week of intensive riding, critical riding instruction and lectures coordinated by Dr. Evans.

Further information is available from: Carol Wageman, University Extension, University of California, Davis, CA 95616.
